

Jeremy the Magician has been interested in the art of magic since he was 8 years old. Since then he has honed his craft, and has amazed audiences young and old with his expert sleight of hand and conjuring skills. Jeremy has performed walk around, close-up, and parlour magic at numerous New York venues, including many private functions, parties and affairs. He was recently the head of the kid's magic program on Norwegian Cruise Line's Spirit ship, performing classes and shows aboard the ship. Jeremy currently works for the weekly Off-Broadway magic show Monday Night Magic. He is a member of the International Brotherhood of Magicians, and he teaches instructional magic workshops all over New York.
