

KATHERINE BRUCCHIERI

Katherine (“Kat”) Brucchieri brings a background built on law, finance, the arts, and community engagement. She spent over a decade supporting legal teams before moving into structured credit at Sculptor Capital Management, where she performed legal analysis and due diligence on complex financial transactions. These experiences laid the foundation for the discipline and thoughtful approach that continue to guide her work today.

After living in New York City, Kat relocated to London and later to Dallas, where she began pursuing her creative interests through photography. She established a successful portrait studio, building lasting client relationships and producing images published in print and editorial media. Today, she runs Studio 43 by Kat B, focusing primarily on nonprofit organizations and mission-driven causes as a meaningful way to serve others through her work.

Since moving to New Jersey, Kat has become a passionate supporter of the Mayo Performing Arts Center. What began as a love of attending performances with her husband and two children has grown into active involvement. Her daughter is a student in MPAC’s Performing Arts School, and the family proudly supports the theatre as Starlight Society members. Kat currently serves as Chair of MPAC’s Community Engagement Committee, which promotes inclusion and community engagement, and is also a member of the Starlight Ball Committee, which works to raise vital funds for MPAC’s arts education programs.

She has been deeply involved in her children’s school community, having previously chaired the annual gala, served on the Executive Parent Committee, and led the effort to bring the World Culture Festival to life, an event that recognizes and celebrates the diverse cultures within the school community and beyond. Her past volunteer work also includes serving as Chair of the Chatham Borough Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Advisory Committee and as a member of the Outreach Committee for the Chatham Township Volunteer Fire Department, where she supported public engagement through photography. In addition to her volunteer work, Kat helps manage a real estate business she co-owns with her husband that focuses on mixed-use properties.

Throughout each chapter of her journey, Kat has combined strategic insight with creativity and a steadfast commitment to community, always driven by a desire to uplift others and create positive impact, an approach she continues to follow today and is dedicated to carrying forward into the future.
